The InsurTech industry is developing at warp speed, thanks to new technologies and an upsurge in investment. The numbers are big. Partnerships between InsurTechs and insurance providers will become even more essential as insurers continue to adapt and refine their technology to adapt to the new business landscape.

Join us for our Virtual Asia InsurTech Conference to meet insurers, founders, investors and experts who are spearheading the industry's digital transformation and shaping the future of the insurance ecosystem. This curated panel of experts will each share their unique perspectives on the current state of InsurTech, where the industry is headed as well as how to gear up for scale in the competitive insurance landscape. There's no denying it: InsurTech is booming!

Proposed topics:

- How can insurers ride the metaverse trend in 2022 and beyond?
